Re Item V.

3

- 1 The following document is referred to in this communication:
 - D1: US-A-5 000 336 (GASS HELMUT G) 19 March 1991 (1991-03-19)
 - D2: WO 00/71798 A (FENTON RONALD L) 30 November 2000 (2000-11-30)
 - D3: US-A-4 925 053 (BRANDT ROBERT ET AL) 15 May 1990 (1990-05-15)
- 2.1 Document D1 discloses an explosion inhibiting article of manufacture comprising an apertured sheet material, which may be used in sheets or formed to cylindrical or spheroidal shapes, apertured with rows of polygonal openings of dissimilar size and/or shape, the physical properties being (I) a consequence of the manufacturing process and a requirement of the application, (ii) the thermal property of the usual conductive metals and finally the compressive yield of 10% a desirable result to be achieved.
- 2.2 Documents D2 and D3 also disclose these features notably for achieving the same result ie. inhibiting settlement of the filler material.
- 2.3 INDEPENDENT CLAIMS 1, 5, 9 & 13-15
 As can be seen from the above, document D1 discloses in combination all the features defined in the independent claims 1, 5, 9 & 13-15. Hence the subject-matter of these claims is not new (Article 33(2) PCT).
- 2.4 DEPENDENT CLAIMS 2-4, 6-8 & 10-12
 Dependent claims 2-4 do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and/or inventive step (Article 33(2) and (3) PCT).

Re Item VIII.

3.1 Although claims 1 & 13, 5 & 14 and 9 and 15 respectively have been drafted as separate independent claims, they appear to relate effectively to the same subject-matter and to differ from each other only with regard to the definition of the subject-matter for which protection is sought. The aforementioned claims therefore lack conciseness and as such do not meet the requirements of Article 6 PCT.

- 3.2 Claims 4, 8 & 12 do not meet the requirements of Article 6 PCT in that the matter for which protection is sought is not clearly defined. The claims attempt to define the subject-matter in terms of the result to be achieved, which merely amounts to a statement of the underlying problem, without providing the technical features necessary for achieving this result.
- 3.3 The vague and imprecise statement in the description on page 6, line 15 describing "irregular apertures", appearing also in independent claims 1, 5 & 9, implies that the subject-matter for which protection is sought may be different to that defined by the claims, thereby resulting in lack of clarity (Article 6 PCT) when used to interpret them, since the term "irregular" has a different standard meaning in geometry.
- 3.4 The features of the claims are not provided with reference signs placed in parentheses (Rule 6.2(b) PCT).
- 3.5 Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the documents D1-D3 is not mentioned in the description, nor are (any of) these documents identified therein.
- 3.6 The independent claims is not in the two-part form in accordance with Rule 6.3(b) PCT, which in the present case would be appropriate, with those features known in combination from the prior art being placed in the preamble (Rule 6.3(b)(l) PCT) and with the remaining features being included in the characterising part (Rule 6.3(b)(ii) PCT).
